

Dominique Pennelier – Member of the Executive Committee of CACEIS, in charge of Information Systems

Dominique Pennelier, 48, holds a Master's Degree in automated production methods. He started his career with an IT consulting training course (Schéma Ingénierie, SOPRA) and specialised in securities management. He carried out various missions for major clients. In 1992, he joined Crédit Mutuel Group where he was in charge of the IT department of the "securities business line". When the CIC Group was purchased by Crédit Mutuel, he designed the structure of the new IT systems. In 2001, he was appointed director of IT of the asset custody department of CDC IXIS. Then, in 2005, having participated in the creation of IXIS Investor Services, securities servicing subsidiary of the Groupe Caisse d'Épargne, he became Member of the Management Board in charge of Information Systems. In 2006, he was appointed Director of Information Systems of the CACEIS group. Since October 2008, Dominique Pennelier has been a Member of the Executive Committee of CACEIS.